Basalt Pendant

With a delicately angular form, the Basalt Pendant is an expression of nature's mathematical beauty. The distinctive irregular hexagonal pattern is reimagined for the modern interior, seamlessly combining robust materials with ambient lighting to enhance the mood of a space.

Inspiration

Inspired by the thousands of extruded basalt columns that make up the Giant's Causeway in Northern Ireland. Basalt unites sandcast solid brass and mouth-blown glass to evoke nature's magnitude.

Sand casting

Designed to mimic the textures of natural formations, sand casting with brass was the selected as the preferred process.

- Sand casting requires incredible skill and patience. The molten brass is poured into a series of custom moulds for each small production batch
- The majority of the run off metal and sand can be recycled back into further production to minimise waste and environmental impact
- Brass can be recycled an infinite number of times without losing its chemical or physical properties

Finish

The interplay between the rough and smooth textured finishes showcase the timeless allure of the Basalt material and celebrate the story of its making. Mimicking the geological processes that inspired it, the sand casted solid brass is left raw and exposed on the vertical surfaces, while the horizontal surfaces are cut and polished to create a beautiful aesthetic counterpoint.

Basalt - Mouth-blown borosilicate glass

Each of the angular glass lamps are diligently crafted using a two-part steel mould to create the hexagonal shapes. The glass is then carefully sprayed to create a soft matte-translucent finish.
